1. The W3C Validator result showing no errors.

The screenshot shows the W3C Nu Html Checker interface. The browser address bar displays 'validator.w3.org/nu/#file'. The page title is 'Nu Html Checker'. A message states: 'This tool is an ongoing experiment in better HTML checking, and its behavior remains subject to change.' Below this, it says 'Showing results for index.html'. The 'Checker Input' section includes a 'Show' dropdown menu with options for 'source', 'outline', 'image report', and 'Options...'. The 'Check by' dropdown is set to 'file upload', with a 'Choose File' button and the text 'No file chosen'. A note indicates that uploaded files with .xhtml or .xht extensions are parsed using the XML parser. A 'Check' button is present. A green banner at the bottom of the checker area states: 'Document checking completed. No errors or warnings to show.' Below this, it says 'Used the HTML parser.' and 'Total execution time 3 milliseconds'. At the very bottom, there are links for 'About this checker', 'Report an issue', and the version number 'Version: 25.3.6'.

2. The modified web page displayed in a browser

The screenshot shows a web browser window with a single tab titled 'Week 2 Lab - Structured Web Pag'. The address bar shows the local file path '127.0.0.1:5500/index.html'. The website content includes a large heading 'Welcome to [Patricia Mboma Kashweka 2021527433] Website', followed by the name 'Chaabilo Lubobya 2021418235'. There are three links: 'Home', 'About', and 'Contact'. A section titled 'Latest News' contains the heading 'HTML5 Updates!' and the text 'HTML5 has introduced powerful new semantic elements.' Below this is a 'Related Links' section with two links: 'Web Standards' and 'HTML5 Guide'. A 'Contact Us' section features a form with fields for 'Full Name:', 'Email:', and 'Message:', along with a 'Send Message' button. The footer of the page reads '© 2025 My Website'.
